

1. How can the troops in Iraq enjoy the parks?

It is our hope that every member of the armed forces who wants to visit one of our parks is able to do so. We hope our military families will be able to enjoy the parks while a family member is deployed.

The offer is open from May 23 through Veterans Day, and we will certainly consider extending it as we did with special military programs after the Gulf War and 9/11. Some of our theme parks are seasonal. Visit www.seaworld.com, www.buschgardens.com, and www.sesameplace.com to review operating schedules, or call 1-800-DIAL-BUD.

2. Will Anheuser-Busch consider extending the program to reach more troops when they are able to return?

Yes. Anheuser-Busch hopes every member of the armed forces will be able to make it back during the program to visit the SeaWorld, Busch Gardens, and Sesame Place parks, but we want to be as accommodating as possible. Certainly, our active military families are welcome to enjoy the parks, even if some soldiers don't return in time.

3. Does the program cover anything besides admission? Free food or drinks?

The program covers only admission, which is a significant contribution and one that Anheuser-Busch proudly makes. The SeaWorld, Busch Gardens, and Sesame Place parks are likely to extend special in-park offers.

4. Will the theme parks allow all family members in, or only dependents? Will parents and girlfriends/boyfriends be allowed in?

The program is for the following military personnel and as many as four of their direct dependents:

- Active duty military
- Ready and standby reservists
- U.S. Coast Guard
- National Guardsmen
- Coalition forces serving with U.S. troops in Operation Iraqi Freedom
- Foreign military personnel serving with U.S. units

Discounted military tickets are available at participating Military/MWR ticket offices for additional members of a party, retired military with I.D., inactive ready reserve, retired reserve and Department of Defense employees. Please visit your local military ticket office to purchase your tickets.

5. Will the theme parks allow repeated visits by service people and their families?

The program is for one single-day visit per service personnel and four of their direct dependents.

6. How can I receive my complimentary single-day admissions?

Visit your local military ticket office to pick up an Operation Salute form (forms will be available after May 5th) and complete the form for yourself and your immediate dependents (up to four). Take the completed form and your military and military dependent identification cards to ticket windows at the SeaWorld, Busch Gardens and Sesame Place parks where you will receive your admission tickets. Operation Salute forms also are available online at www.seaworld.com, www.buschgardens.com, www.sesameplace.com, and at the participating theme parks.
